Another Severe Criticism of the Democratic Party.

ork, Oct 20.—Referring to the recent efforts democratic leaders to stem the popular tide them on account of the tariff issue in the campaign, to-day's Commercial Bulletin The democracy have tacitly conceded the argument of the other side, and contemptuously turned their backs on their principles, by pretending that they have not made free trade an issue election. Such shameful recreancy to party ples has never been exhibited in the history political contest. It is not merely that a seemed worthy of nomination for the presidency had spoken mincing words to propitiate protectionists, nor that prominent party organs and leaders have shirked the issue and slunk away their standard, but their candidate presidency has belied his party and its immemorial policy by declaring a local clamor that he virtually favors as much as the rival candidate. A party spokesman can thus abjure its fundamental ples, in the face of a contest that boldly challenges those principles, has sunk to the last stage of and declared itself unfit to be entrusted with the representation of any great issue in politics.

A Stupid Forgery.

York, Oct. 20.—An obscure journal published has recently promised important developments in Garfield's political life, and to-day prints following letter:

The Unpleasantness in Delaware.

Democratic Blowing about California.

The Star this evening has the following: Ex-Congressman McCorkle, of California, is in the city. He says the democrats are thoroughly organized in that state and will carry it; that the republicans will not dare to introduce the tariff issue, because men of all parties are free traders, for free trade and for free ships, and that the Chinese question is the principal question, and on it the democrats are making their fight. He has been in Nevada, too, and expresses himself as very much encouraged with democratic prospects there. He says Mr. Fair is making a determined fight and will carry the state and the legislature, and the fact that Sharon has not a residence in Nevada is hurting him badly. The Chinese question, he says, is being worked by the democrats in Nevada and Oregon, as well as in California.

Paying up Promptly.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The circular recently issued by the republican congressional committee, asking the employes of the executive departments for an additional 1 per cent of their salary, is meeting with hearty and almost unanimous response. It is paid with vastly more alacrity than any previous assessment, thus illustrating the well known fact that "nothing succeeds like success." Up to this morning over half of the public employes in Washington had either paid his assessment or given notice that they would do so within a day or two.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Mutual Extermination.

Bucharest, Oct. 20.—Trustworthy intelligence from the borderland between Macedonia and Albania represents that Christians are ripe for revolution. Bulgarians and Mussulmans are armed, and assassinations on both sides are common occurrences. Anarchy reigns supreme. It is believed the chief purpose of the Turkish authorities, in inducing the Albanians to flock to the northern and southern frontiers, is to establish troops in the interior, where they can control the lawless population and crush their independence. If some steps are not taken to restore order, the population will probably be considerably diminished by mutual extermination.

What Montenegro Will Do.

Constantinople, Oct. 20.—Goschen, British Ambassador, has informed the Porte that the Prince of Montenegro will undertake to liberate Mussulmans imprisoned at Podgoritza for agitating, and will proclaim amnesty after the surrender of Dulcigno.

London, Oct. 20.—The Globe learns from good authority that the quantity of firearms imported into Ireland from America and the continent greatly exceeds the estimates. About a dozen land meetings are preparing for Sunday. The violent resolutions passed by Orange lodges in condemnation of land agitators attracts much attention.

The French Religious Societies.

Paris, Oct. 20.—The Carmelites were expelled from their establishment at Rennes to-day. The police were obliged to force the doors, and it was necessary to summon the gen d'armes and a battalion of infantry to maintain order. The central commissary of police has resigned, as he deems the decrees illegal. The police were ordered to disperse the crowd collected near the Capuchin establishment at Marseilles.

HON. M. C. GEORGE'S VISIT TO THE INDIANS.

Hon. M. C. George, congressman elect, has recently visited the Grand Ronde Indian agency and investigated some of the matters connected with the opening of the Siletz and Grand Ronde reservations by the general government. The Indians learning of the contemplated visit gathered at the agency from all parts and some came from the mouth of the Salmon river, and at a general pow-wow held the several chiefs and representative Indians gave their views and desires and requested the fathers of the government [illegible] its promises. Nearly all talked fair English, but some preferred to converse in Chinook. The Indians are well managed and appear to be self-sustaining. About 25,000 bushels of grain are produced annually by them, and nearly all live in houses of their own handiwork and pretty much as white people live. Many of them expressed themselves as desiring to become citizens the same as the whites—to have their lands in severalty [illegible] Mr. Sinnott, the agent, has had [illegible] experience in that station for about eight years. Mr. George also spent some time recently in investigating the government Indian school under the charge of Capt. Wilkinson at Forest Grove. [illegible]

Another Letter from Meacham.

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—The Daily Stock Report [illegible] A. B. Meacham [illegible] the only alternative to take. Every white man knew that while there were only [illegible] Utes present that a shot fired would be the signal for slaughter of every white man in the Ute country. There were many hundred miles of road, with freighters in every mile, exposed and unwarned of danger. The only thing to do was done. The prisoners were relegated to citizens and soldiers, and Utes also. Agent Berry and myself left for home. The Utes meant the compact in good faith, as did the white men. After we had all started the citizens had talked with the prisoner and wagon boss and agreed that the man who fired the fatal shot should go with citizens to Gunnison for trial. The Utes meantime going on a trail over the mountains met a large war party, and were overruled and turned back to Cline's, where they overtook the citizens and took the prisoner forcibly, and by making threats of death compelled the guard to leave the road. What became of the prisoner is not known, but there is not much doubt. I know the compromise was bona fide, and that the release was also bona fide and terribly in earnest. As might be expected, there are rumors of a put up job, but I do not believe it.

Unpleasantness at Modesto.

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—At the time the train with the presidential party reached Modesto, night before last, a democratic meeting was in progress about 500 feet from the depot. One of the speakers expressed great indignation that the music of the band brought out to welcome the president, should be allowed to interrupt the meeting. When the train arrived the crowd gathered around the platform and cheered for Hancock and Tilden as well as for Hayes. Several rows ensued, and the uproar continued for some time. After its subsidence, the train moved off amid cheers.

The California Southern.

San Diego, Oct. 20.—The California Southern Railroad to-day filed articles of incorporation, according to terms of contract, with a syndicate of Boston capitalists who have subscribed $2,000,000 to carry forward the work. The points designated in the incorporation papers are from the Bay of San Diego to the town of San Bernardino, but it is their purpose to build to a point of junction with the Atlantic & Pacific road, San Bernardino being now named as the nearest known point, the law requiring two points to be named. The capital stock is $2,000,000, paid in, $116,000. Corporators are Benj. Kimball of Boston, Henry B. Williams of San Francisco, M. A. Luce, John A. Fairchild, Joseph O. Osgood and George N. Weaver. President, Benj. Kimball; treasurer, Thomas Nickerson of Boston. Preliminary surveys have been completed and permanent location is now being made. Grade stakes have been set running from a point on the bay at National city, thence along the bay shore and through the city northerly. The Boston syndicate are under contract to complete to San Bernardino on or before January 1, 1882. Material is on the way, rails having been shipped from England and Chief Engineer Osgood will push the work.

A Child with Two Faces.

Several days ago a Mexican woman gave birth to a child with two faces on one head. Each face had two eyes, two noses, two mouths, and four ears. The child fed from both mouths, would take the breast with one and a bottle with the other at the same time, and would laugh with one face and cry with the other at the same instant. This little curiosity died yesterday after apparently enjoying good health for twenty days.

Fire in the Steam Tug "Beaver."

Victoria, Oct. 20.—An alarm at 11:30 last night was caused by the partial burning of the steam tug Beaver, lying at Dickson, Campbell & Co's wharf. The fire broke out in the upper works, which were almost entirely destroyed. The loss will not exceed $500. The fire is supposed to have caught from a spark from the furnaces and to have smouldered several hours before breaking out. The Beaver is 47 years old, having been launched in 1833, and was the first steamer to enter the Pacific ocean.

The steamship Idaho, with a full freight and the following passengers sailed today at noon: Mrs. Barns, Mrs. King, Mrs. Symington, Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. McKeon, Messrs. C. Strouss, J. W. Candish, J. Smith, J. Clip and six Chinese.

IN REPLY TO MR. HIRSCH.

SALEM, Oct. 19, 1880.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I have seen that your columns have been generously thrown open to the admission of correspondence, even when advocating views opposed to your own. I venture therefore to ask you to insert this letter.

Yesterday I was present in the state senate at the debate on senate bill No. 82, for the interchange of traffic by common carriers.

The debate had really closed after argument by various senators, and the final vote was about to be taken on the previous question, when the president, Mr. Hirsch, left the chair to Senator Apperson and took the floor. Holding in his hand a prospectus of the Oregon Pacific railroad company which he had just received, the president of the senate delivered himself of a most excited speech. He said that he could now understand why and how the bill had been pushed on; that he held in his hand a document which was full of misstatements; that every senator on the floor knew that the total wheat crop of the state for four years had only averaged four and a half million bushels, whilst that prospectus claimed that they would send six million bushels over their road. Getting still more excited, he said that positively they claimed that on an expenditure of three million and a quarter of dollars they would make twenty-one per cent on three million nine hundred thousand dollars of stock; and he apostrophised the senate thus: "Did you ever hear a thing, gentlemen, so full of lies? It is a fraud of the first water." Here the president's five minutes' time was up, and he stopped abruptly.

Now, sir, I am fully aware that public documents like this prospectus are open to free criticism, and the more severe, the better for the public interest. But I think I have a right to appeal from the [illegible] and ill considered invective of Mr. Hirsch to the wider and more liberal judgment of the public of Oregon.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF UNDERWRITERS.

First Day's Proceeding.

New York, Oct. 20.—A convention of insurance managers began this morning. [illegible] which were referred to the committee on resolutions.

Whereas, Of late years insurance capital has been the subject of persistent unjust oppression, especially in direction of hostile and unwise legislation, past and contemplated.

Whereas, This interest has also suffered enormously by reason of want of confidence and cooperation between underwriters, thus engendering reckless, and too often senseless, competition.

Whereas, The national and material interests of the country imperatively demand a stable and prosperous condition of insurance capital, be it therefore

Resolved, That in the judgment of this convention all who are in charge of insurance interests should recognize it as a high public duty to encourage, by all possible fair means, a spirit of fraternity and unity of sentiment between all underwriters, to the end that public and private interests may be conserved and insurance companies themselves saved from impending destruction.

Peter Notman of the Niagara, delivered an address on "The Situation," and was followed by Samuel Blagden of the North British America, on "Incendiarism." He offered a resolution which was referred to the proper committee, that the convention pronounces itself decidedly against the system of insurance profits, as subversive and most destructive to the interests of insurer and insured.

Driggs, of the Williamsburg City Insurance Company, made some remarks on "Prejudices of the Judiciary," and Henry A. Oakley, of the Howard, spoke on "State Deposits."

Cowardin, of Richmond, Va., offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee, to report speedily as possible, suitable laws for the national board of fire underwriters.

Alfred G. Baker, president of the Franklin Fire, of Philadelphia, moved that the matter be referred to the business committee.

Hope, of the Continental, hoped no action would be taken in the matter. There was a national board at present in existence, and they did not want two national boards. He suggested this body be organized into a permanent one, and that a committee on organization should report suitable by-laws and constitutions for its government.

Cowardin accepted this amendment and it was adopted.

Walker presented a paper which had been prepared by Hopkins of California, and this was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Richmond made some remarks as to the expediency of the convention devoting less of its time to legislative measures and more to other subjects equally as important to insurance interests.

Bill lost by following vote:

Ayes—Apperson, Colvig, Fulton, Humphrey, Knight, [illegible], McConnell, Simon, Starkweather, Stearns, Tyson, Waldo, Waters, Mr. President—14.

Nays—Bilyeu, Burch, Clow, Cochran, Davidson, Gates, Grim, Haines, Hendricks, Pennington, Rose, Saglin, Smith, Sifers, Woodward, Wright—16.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

S. B. [illegible] To change charter of the city of Albany; passed.

S. B. 105. To incorporate the town of Lebanon, Linn county; passed.

S. B. 33. To change charter of the city of Portland; passed.

Invitation to senate from Christian church to attend a social Wednesday evening was presented.

Knight moved that it be accepted.

Simon moved to amend, that the senate attend in a body; lost.

Burch moved to lay on table; lost.

Haines thought it was very foolish for the senate to be devoted from legitimate legislation by these frivolous matters. By accepting these invitations we necessarily retard the work, and surely at this period, in the few last days of the session, there are many things to be done. If we allow these invitations to come in and occupy the precious few remaining hours of this session, we will be doing a great injury to our constituents. We had better pay a half a dollar for a ticket for this social and use this evening for the transaction of our business, for by neglecting our duty, we may lose to the people fifty thousand dollars or more.

Fulton moved to indefinitely postpone; carried.

S. B. 93. To incorporate Sodaville, Linn county; passed.

S. B. 88. To limit the liability of sureties in bonds or undertakings required by law; passed.

S. B. 75. To amend section 2[illegible], chapter 3, civil code, relating to writ of execution and rights of [illegible] in same; passed.

S. B. 87. To repeal section [illegible], chapter 2, miscellaneous laws relating to sale of lands in the Umatilla reservation; passed.

S. B. 81. To amend title 1, chapter 51, miscellaneous laws as compiled by Matthew P. Deady and Lafayette Lane, relating to the sale of spirituous liquors, regulating the license and amount to be sold.

Petition offered by Burch from citizens of Yamhill county, praying for the passage of the civil damage laws and local option law.

Knight desired the gentleman from Linn to inform him of his opinion as to the constitutionality of the bill before the senate.

Smith: It is only to regulate the sale of liquors and does not conflict with the constitution.

Haines: It would be an injury to the miner neighbors of this state for they cannot pack a gallon of whisky over the mountains with other supplies, such as a sack of flour. They would probably take the whole gallon, when a single drink was all that was needed. The consequence would be that a great destruction of life would occur, and the people would buy a gallon and use it when formerly one drink would satisfy them. It is a very bad bill and should not pass.

[illegible] opposed the bill, because it would work a hardship on persons requiring a glass of liquor in cases of sickness, where a delay would be extremely dangerous to the life of said persons. It also gave grocery stores an advantage over drug stores. As a rule very few persons bought liquor by the gallon. It is not calculated to improve any of the existing evils arising from drunkenness or dissipation.

The following was the vote on the bill:

Yeas—Bilyeu, Burch, Clow, Colvig, Humphrey, Pennington, Rose, Saglin, Starkweather, Stearns, Tyson, Waldo, Woodward, Wright—15.

Nays—Apperson, Cochran, Fulton, Gates, Grim, Haines, Hendricks, Knight, McConnell, Sigle, Simon, Sifers, Waters, Mr. President—14.

Absent—Davidson.

The bill was then declared lost.

On motion senate adjourned.

Afternoon Session.

Sifers asked unanimous consent for suspension of rules, that the [illegible] S. B. [illegible]

Senate refused to consent.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

S. B. 97. To define [illegible] for S. B. [illegible] passed.

S. B. 80. To amend section [illegible], title [illegible] of civil code, to compel [illegible] and [illegible] away discretion of the courts [illegible] passed.

S. B. 105. To regulate [illegible] and surveys of lumber in the log and fix compensation therefor; passed.

The senators from Multnomah county reported [illegible] the charter bill with [illegible] amendments, the most important being one which provides that the first election under the act shall take place the third Monday in June, 1881, and that officers appointed under the act shall be appointed at the first meeting of the council in July thereafter.

Simon moved to suspend the rules and read third time; lost.

S. B. 121—To prohibit aliens from working highways; lost.

S. B. 122. To provide for the maintenance of the Oregon institute for the blind; passed.

S. B. 116. To encourage and assist the propagation of salmon and other food fishes.

Cochran moved to indefinitely postpone.

Fulton was surprised at the pertinacity of the gentleman from Lane county. The Democrat has called him an obstructionist. I am afraid this is so, but he not only opposes bills and legislation but he actually desires to stop the propagation of salmon, one of the most important industries in the state. The gentleman from Lane wants to exterminate this fish by making a motion to indefinitely postpone.

Cochran: I made this motion to dispose of the matter. This bill is a catch-trap to get money from the treasury. I am in favor of any useful measure which is for the benefit of the people of Oregon.

Fulton presented the importance of salmon fisheries. It was necessary to institute a hatchery and encourage in every possible manner propagation of the food fishes.

Clow thought the erection of a fish ladder in the Willamette would do more substantial, permanent good than even a hatchery, for the last is not calculated to do any good unless the state expends sufficient appropriations to make it a permanent institution. But a fish ladder could be built much cheaper and it would obviate any difficulty about the salmon being exterminated.

Motion to indefinitely postpone was lost.

Bill lost.

S. B. 4. To provide for the construction of an Insane asylum.

On motion of Knight, was laid on table.

Simon, from committee on assessments, reported on S. B. 65, 75 and 73 and recommended that they do not pass.

Haines moved to suspend the rules, consider S. B. 75 engrossed, and that it be now read third time; carried.

S. B. 75. To amend section 66, chapter 57, miscellaneous laws, relating to the collection and return of taxes; lost.

Burch moved that the vote by which S. B. 96, for the relief of H. D. Sanborn and John Van Beurden, was lost be reconsidered; carried, and the bill passed.

Fulton presented a report of the committee on counties on S. B. 109, for the relief of Jackson county.

Humphrey moved to suspend the rules, consider the bill engrossed, and that it be read third time now; carried, and bill passed.

Cochran moved that S. B. 80, to amend section 32, chapter 5, title 1, civil code, relating to balloting for jurors for grand jury be taken from the table; carried.

On motion of Cochran it was considered engrossed, read third time and passed.

A message was received from the house that a joint committee of one from the house and one from the senate be appointed to cooperate with H. D. Sanborn to inquire into the wool and sheep products of the state and collect information on the subject to be forwarded to the department of agriculture, Washington.

Colvig offered an amendment providing that no compensation be paid any person appointed under this resolution, and no claim shall be allowed for money expended; amendment and resolution adopted.

The president appointed McConnell to act with such committee on the part of the senate.

Recess till 7:30 P. M.

Evening Session.

Fulton moved a suspension of the rules to introduce S. B. [illegible], to amend S. B. 101, for the apportionment of senators and representatives to districts; carried, and [illegible] first reading.

Fulton moved a further suspension of the rules [illegible] second time; lost.

Simon presented the report of special committee on [illegible] at Multnomah county.

[illegible] copies of the report were ordered printed.

Knight moved that H. B. 4 be now taken up and [illegible]

The chair ruled that a bill cannot be taken up without a suspension of the rules, nor can it be considered before first and second reading of House bills are gone through with.

Knight appealed from the decision of the chair. The decision of the chair was overruled.

A motion to consider H. B. 4 was carried.

H. B. 4, for construction of a brick insane building, the [illegible] appropriate money therefor; passed.

[illegible]: Resolved, That the senate meet the house in joint convention Tuesday, Oct. 21, at [illegible] P. M., for the purpose of electing three land commissioners, one [illegible] of state lands and one land commissioner [illegible]

WICKED FOR CLERGYMEN.

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called medicines, but when a really meritorious article is made up of common valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them."

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING OCT 21 1880

TRUTHS AND ILLUSTRATIONS

Yesterday THE OREGONIAN offered some remarks on that peculiar form of society known as the civilization of the solid south. One of our citizens who is of southern birth but who has not lived in the south for many years tells us that he feels like entering a remonstrance against the article. He is of opinion that the southern states are not a whit behind the northern in any of the conditions of an advanced civilization.

It is unnecessary to misunderstand this matter. Every one knows that in the southern states there are multitudes who in culture in refinement in generosity in sense of justice about the ordinary relations intercourse and rights of men are equals of any people. But it is also as well known that throughout southern society as a whole there is not that large sense of justice that clear moral perception of the equal and reciprocal rights of all classes which prevail in most other English speaking communities including our northern states. It would be idle to deny that passion and prejudice are most deeply seated in the southern mind and unless the observations of all who have made personal examination of the state of southern society should go for naught then it is certain that education built on large principles of enlightenment and justice whereby a public conscience is awakened and nurtured, and whereby a steady regard for the principles on which peaceful and prosperous society can alone exist is encouraged and maintained can not be considered up to the mark of education in most or all of our northern states. Nor has the census ever failed in its revelation on this subject. It has steadily told us every ten years how far the southern states are behind the northern in the general diffusion of knowledge, as well as in the great and varied industries which go to make up not only the business but the moral life of a people.

But in the south, even among numbers of the most cultivated and enlightened class there is noticeable insensibility to the rights of the colored race, and not only to the rights of this race but to those of all political opponents. Looking into the causes of this we do not find it a strange thing. Nevertheless it is a fact, and as such must be considered. It obtrudes itself constantly in our politics, and now more than ever, because its effect is seen in that phase of our politics known as the solid south. Men who until recently had claimed property in the colored race of which they deemed themselves wrongfully divested who had asserted absolute mastery and ownership over millions of their fellow creatures who had no rights which they thought themselves bound to respect saw those millions emancipated from their mastery and control, made American citizens given the ballot and raised to equality before the law. These were great steps in the march of human progress and equal rights. But to the southern whites, with their views narrowed by the barbarism of slavery, they were acts of odious tyranny. Hence they deem themselves perfectly justified in wresting from the blacks the political and other rights thus conferred. Not only this but going further and transferring their hatred of the results of emancipation and equal suffrage beyond the negroes themselves to the cause of this great change, they resolve not to permit the republican party to exist in any southern state. And whatever form of outrage and violence is necessary to this end is employed without scruple, under the belief that the end justifies the means. These continued and sustained outrages on personal and political rights are very characteristic of a community where the general sense of justice is low. It is useless to argue that such a community is the seat of the best civilization.

The general subject is a large one, and we shall touch only one more phase of it. A book has been published by Mr. James Redfield, noted as a writer and thinker, upon homicide, north and south. He makes it apparent by signal proofs how excessively prevalent this crime is in our southern states in comparison with those of the north. In Texas the frightful number of seven thousand murders have been committed within the last fifteen years, in a population of one million. This is justly pointed at as an awful state of society, in a few respects removed from complete barbarism. In Texas, in 1878, there were more homicides than in the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Minnesota, aggregating a population of seventeen millions. In Kentucky in the same year there were more homicides than in the eight states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Michigan and Minnesota, with an aggregate population of ten millions. In South Carolina in the same year there were more homicides than in eight northern states with a population of six millions. The excess of murders and manslaughters in the [illegible]ern states is normal, being kept up [illegible], and is larger than in any other part [illegible] civilized world. In Turkey itself the [illegible]tion is hardly equalled. Mr. Redfield [illegible]ot indeed assert that this tendency to [illegible]aying in the southern states is wholly [illegible]al. On the contrary he deals chiefly [illegible] class of homicides which he declares [illegible] no more connection with politics than [illegible] larceny in New York." In a California journal, the Sacramento Record-Union, [illegible]d a strong article supporting the gen[illegible]aw we have been presenting. That pa[illegible] says: "It is perfectly clear that defective [illegible]tion and civilization generally is the [illegible] of the great difference in crime be[illegible]n the north and south. The plain fact [illegible]at the south is very much more than a [illegible]ury behind the north, and that it is not [illegible] cope with the latter. The swashbuckler [illegible] bravo of the south who talks about his [illegible]nor" and regards assassination as a vir[illegible] is in plain English, a semi-barbarian [illegible]ose parallel does not exist at the north [illegible] in the lowest groggeries of the slums of [illegible] great cities. The shameless defeats of jus[illegible] which the southern courts perpetrate in [illegible]nicide cases still further illustrate the bar[illegible]sm of the region. Clearly very little ad[illegible]ce can be expected from the people of that [illegible]on until they have learned to respect hu[illegible] life, and to reverence the law and ad[illegible]ister it. And clearly it would be mad [illegible] for the north to permit so uncivilized [illegible] lawless a people to gain control of the [illegible]ernment."

DELUDED EXPECTANTS

If republican officeholders are furnishing as we are told, great sums of money in his campaign it would be interesting to know how much the expectant officeholders of the democratic party are furnishing. A disgusted democrat in Ohio has been telling something about the methods of Barnum chairman of the democratic national committee. The method is to sell at regular appraised valuation every federal office from that of cabinet minister to the humblest country postmaster. These official positions are not only sold once but scores of times each new buyer being sworn to secrecy so that all passe along quietly enough for a time. We hear the democrats sometimes talk of the ho[illegible]s of officeholders on whom assessments are levied. One who knows the average of human nature and democratic nature in particular knows that there are ten office seekers to one officeholder and that one will pay as high for the promise of getting an office as for that of keeping one already in possession. Of course this is fraud among the members of their own household mean and dishonorable as well as wicked. But then the fact is the democratic party is on its last legs. There is no harmony of sentiment between the sections of the party. Nothing in the world but hope of official plunder keeps the miscellaneous crowd together. The four [illegible] are [illegible] and [illegible] Virginia and Georgia, Greenback Butler and hard money English, a [illegible] High tariff Randall and free trade Cox are [illegible] their chance. The active bulldozer and the [illegible] abolitionist have in many cases joined hands in the grand raid upon the official citadel. It is a motley crew such as one would expect to find on a pirate ship. The present condition of the democracy much resembles a raft constructed of every thing afloat from spar to a hen coop, rigged to carry the crew of a sinking ship to the shore.

Should the desperate game win—of which however there is now small chance—then the real trouble would begin. Here will be a dozen men claiming the same office [illegible] meekly on the merits [illegible] fiercely as of dearly purchased right. Those who fail will be mad, but many will be pacified by the promise of new offices. The army will be increased and every confederate who cannot find other situation will get a commission in the army or navy or be pensioned for his service in trying to destroy the union. The southern claims on file in Washington are not a circumstance to the claims that are being filed in the bureau of the national democratic committee. Every expectant democratic office holder is told that this is his last chance. It is now or never. After another awakening of the people there will be no more democratic party. Failure means utter annihilation.

It is but natural that republican officials should do their utmost to defend their position when they see the grand rush that is being made on the other side for spoils. This is really the life of the democratic campaign. The New York Herald speaks well when it says: "Were it not for the vicious and demoralizing spoils system which changes all the federal officers on the accession of a new party our presidential elections would not greatly agitate the country. They may change all the officers but they can change little else. Congress is the supreme power in our government. Its members even dictate the appointments to office which are nominally made by the president. If the spoils system were abolished our presidential elections would not excite and inflame the country as they do at present."

Mr. Wallis Nash, of Corvallis, in a letter printed to-day, criticises certain remarks made by Senator Hirsch of Multnomah in a memorial presented by the so-called Oregon Pacific railroad company. Whether Mr Nash quotes Mr Hirsch correctly or not we can not say. Our own report stated that Mr Hirsch "contended that the memorial was a most transparent fraud." The passage he referred to it appears, was one in which it was stated that on the estimate made by competent persons based on the crop of 1878, the amount of wheat that would seek an outlet through Yaquina bay upon construction of a railroad from the bay to Albany, would be six million bushels annually. Now we think there are few persons whose information qualifies them to form a judgment who would not agree with Mr Hirsch that this estimate is very greatly exaggerated. The entire Willamette valley has never produced anything like six million bushels of wheat for export. We do not here discuss the possibility of making Yaquina bay a harbor, nor the probability of a road being constructed from Albany to Yaquina bay. But we do not think there is much present prospect of either. Private capital, however, could do the one and government should, if practicable, do the other. But it appears only just to say that this Yaquina bay railway scheme in its present hands does not seem to have much of anything in it.

Reports up to the 26th September from the entire wheat growing area of the United States have been received at the department of agriculture. It would seem from the figures that the yield has been overstated in the earlier estimates. The statistics now seem to show that the yield will not exceed 465,691,000 bushels. Of this it is estimated 281,000,000 bushels will be consumed at home, leaving a surplus of 184 000 000 bushels for export against 185,000 000 bushels exported last year. This may be a kind of approximation, but in fact no very accurate result can be reached by any mere estimate through information at the command of the agricultural bureau.

A number of business men of New York have issued an address asserting that "the democratic platform has not a single menace against any legitimate industry." It is not necessary to bother about the platform. The party itself is a menace. It has been devoted to all the financial and other frauds with which the country has been cursed for a dozen years past, beginning with its effort to "pay" the national debt by issues of irredeemable greenbacks.

We are advised that an erroneous impression was conveyed in our legislative report yesterday, concerning the motion to return to Mr A Bush his communication relating to purchase of portraits of governors with his salary as superintendent of the penitentiary. It should have been stated that the communication was returned on the committee being advised that Mr Bush intended to purchase the portraits at once.

By recommendation of the Multnomah senators the Portland charter bill has been amended in important particulars. But the senate yesterday declined to suspend the rules so as to have it read third time. As the session is now drawing to a close it may fail entirely. Should this be the result most people in Portland would be well satisfied.

Last evening the common council passed unanimously a resolution thanking the senators from Multnomah for having opposed the levee bill. In this the common council reflects the sentiment of the people of Portland as the senators had previously done in opposing the bill.

CITY.

YOUNG BULLDOZERS.—Some young hoodlums show the force of democratic teaching, and [illegible] a club of "Garfield Juniors" [illegible] about 15 years of age, who by special meeting of the committee were given a place in the procession and [illegible] torches and a broom. They had also provided two very neat transparencies, on one of which was inscribed "Garfield and Arthur Juniors." On the side of the second was painted "Can't vote but we are coming," and on the reverse "We are coming Father Abraham." There was about twenty of the boys, all with scarfs on and all quiet and orderly. Some democratic bulldosing hoodlums stoned them and destroyed their transparencies. However, about one of their number being overtaken by an [illegible] and soundly spanked.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Yesterday morning, about 9 o'clock, on First and Stark streets a street cleaner by the name of Bishop frightened his horse [illegible] some fragments of sheet iron when the animal started rapidly up Stark street struck an express wagon from which an old lady and little girl, whose names we did not learn, had just dismounted. The front wheels of the flying dirt wagon missed the little girl but a few inches and striking the express wagon, damaging it no little, the scavenger's vehicle was then capsized and completely demolished. The lady and little girl left the spot apparently glad to be able to tell the story of their narrow escape.

NEW STEAMERS.—Mr Henry Villard president of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company telegraphed Mr T F Oakes the vice president of the company yesterday that he has closed a contract with John Roach & Son of Chester Pa for two coal and freight steamers of 335 feet long, 40 feet beam, 23 foot depth. Carrying capacity 3000 tons. These steamers will reach the Pacific coast next summer and be mainly employed in Puget Sound coal trade that is between Seattle and San Francisco and Seattle and Portland.

DIRECTORY.—The new City and State Directory is fast approaching completion and will present a mass of information about Portland and the other portions of the state as well, which will make a work of great value. The publishers request that any removals, changes in business or new firms since their canvass was made be sent in at once. A postal addressed to A. A. Bynon, 5 Washington street, will be promptly attended to. Persons desiring to subscribe for the work, can leave their names with J K Gill & Co.

FIRE AT FOREST GROVE.—On Tuesday night at 12 o'clock a fire broke out in the store of Mr Barrett at [illegible] at that place. Little of his stock was saved. The fire communicated to the store of Mrs [illegible], adjoining which was also consumed but most of the stock was got out so that the loss, except the building, is not great. It is not known how the fire originated, but there is suspicion of incendiarism. It is reported that Mr Barrett carried [illegible] insurance.

LAST MEETING.—The Young Men's Republican Club will hold their last meeting to-morrow (Friday) night at the Y M C A Hall. Short speeches will be made by George H Durham, G A Mooney, [illegible] Tanner, C. H Paine, W H Adams and C A [illegible]. Good music will be in attendance. Ladies invited.

POLITICAL SPEAKING AT ST HELENS.—Tuesday evening Hon. T A McBride addressed a large and enthusiastic crowd of citizens at St. Helens, on behalf of the republican party in an able speech of [illegible]. He was followed by Mr George McBride in an excellent twenty minutes' address.

[illegible].—On next Saturday evening (23d) Hon. John F. Caples will by invitation address the [illegible] republican club at Union school house, [illegible] precinct, Clackamas county. Republicans are alive there, as in all other parts of the state.

RATIFICATION MEETING.—This evening there will be a meeting at Salem, to ratify the passage of the amendment in relation to woman suffrage. It is expected that the meeting will be a large one.

ARRIVED.—The steamship State of California reached her wharf here last evening at 7 o'clock, with passengers and a full freight. She is announced to sail hence on Monday, 25th inst.

[illegible] CADETS.—All members of the club are requested to meet at 7:30 this evening at the republican central committee rooms, by order of the captain.

[illegible] LECTURE.—The theme of Mr Cruzan's talk to-night at the Congregational prayer meeting will be, "To Every Man his Work." Strangers invited.

[illegible].—Col Hawkins will address the citizens of Oregon City to-morrow (Friday) evening, [illegible] Hall. Everybody is invited.

RIVER ITEMS.

The ships Chandos and the Outwater, three [illegible] wooden ships, are holding on for better rates than are offered, viz, 70 shillings.

[illegible] steamer [illegible] is on the ways undergoing repairs. In addition about 18 feet is being made to the length of the hull. She also will be completed in a few days.

The [illegible], [illegible] tons, and the Pilock, [illegible] tons, both iron vessels, are chartered and ready to receive cargo. It is rumored that one receives 80 shillings and the other 75 shillings.

[illegible] steam yacht, for parties at Astoria engaged in the fish business, is undergoing a thorough overhauling and repairs under the supervision of Capt [illegible]. She is receiving a first coat of paint, and will soon be on the route between Astoria and Lewis and Clarke river.

The magnificent wharves built by Capt G Flanders covering about 300 feet of river front, are now complete and perfect to afford storage for thousands of tons of wheat. They speak well for the enterprise of this well known public-minded citizen, and are at once, properly a pride of this city and superb wharfage accommodations.

The first-class packet ships Coloma and Alden Besse are ready to leave, with passengers, for China. [illegible] Ames of the latter bark, is improving and will probably leave in command of her on her trip to Hongkong. The Coloma, for the same port, will get away probably on Tuesday next. [illegible] Noyes health is not good. We sincerely hope the voyage will bring to her recuperation.

The American ship Outwater has successfully removed her old foremast and stepped a new one, a magnificent stick of Oregon growth. [illegible] is also fitting a new foretopmast and topgall yard for the same vessel. The excellence of Oregon timber for ship's spars is creating a steadily increasing demand by vessels visiting this port. The bark Oasis and ship Chandos have also been supplied, the former with a mizzen mast and the latter with a main lower yard besides other spars.

Members present—Baleigh, [illegible], [illegible], Keller, [illegible], Mackay and Weber.

[illegible]

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

The following [illegible] was received from the mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, [illegible] 1880

To the Hon [illegible] the Common Council [illegible] an ordinance [illegible] the report of the survey [illegible] in the matter of the proposed extension of Madison street, without my approval for the following reasons:

It appears from personal [illegible] of the property [illegible] of said street [illegible] This remonstrance appears to be signed by all or nearly all of the property that would be affected by the opening of said Madison street, that the opening of said street would entail a heavy expense on the city without corresponding benefit; that [illegible] improvements have been made on the line of said street that would be destroyed should said Madison street be declared opened; that [illegible] street in the south is now opened to the west city boundary of the city and affords all the outlet necessary for the citizens on the proposed extension from Eighth to Twelfth street; that west of Twelfth is a deep and rugged ravine which would be enormously expensive to improve to make the street of any value as a thoroughfare, and [illegible] property liable to be assessed in my opinion would not sell for enough to pay for building the street through this section.

When the western boundary of the city would be reached the street would connect with a thirty feet street, also unimproved, so that the street would not be a main thoroughfare if declared opened. For these reasons I have withheld my signature from the above entitled ordinance. Respectfully submitted

D P THOMPSON, Mayor

The veto was sustained, the ordinance failing to receive the requisite number of votes.

HOOD RIVER.

Desirable Lands Adapted to a Varied System of Farming Awaiting Occupation—Opportunities for the Profitable Investment of Capital and Labor.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Oct. 15, 1880.

This farming [illegible] makes a pleasant break in the journey up the [illegible] most [illegible] scenery [illegible] every tourist who [illegible] to [illegible] to the [illegible] nature of the country, pleasant drives are afforded over [illegible] with easy grades to the prettiest locations, from which every conceivable variety of scenery, ever changing as you advance, is [illegible] spread before you, while from the summits of the hills sprising from Hood river on the east a wonderful view is had of river and country around for many miles, including the majestic peaks, Mt. Hood and Adams. Competent critics declare this to be one of the finest views of the most beautiful scenery of the Columbia. To describe it would be like attempting a verbal reproduction of a painting of Bierstadt. Many pages might be written and then the half were not told.

The climate of this section is most healthful and invigorating, with the clear, cool breeze wafted from the snowy peaks of the Cascades, or the stronger winds purified by their upward passage over the sands and waters of the Columbia, but whose force is here broken by the protecting groves of oak and pine. There is an abundance of finest water, either from numerous springs or running fresh from the precincts of Mt. Hood, with not a semblance of alkali in its composition, while the climate at this point, owing to its location, which is some five miles east or above the climatic line of difference between the two sections of the Cascades, thus partakes of the natures of both; all tending to render this locality peculiarly healthful and desirable as a place of residence. It is not until recently that the lands in this vicinity have attracted much attention for farming purposes, and yet at the present time, they possess a combination of advantages not surpassed by any section we know of. Fruits such as peaches, apples, pears, etc., produced here, are incomparable for size and richness of flavor, while hay, vegetables and grain are most advantageously grown. And yet, at present, they are unable to supply the rapidly increasing demand for hay and vegetables at the mills and lumbering camps upon this section of the Columbia. Timothy hay readily sells to-day at from $25 to $30 per ton. Haines and Sanders, whose farm fronts on the Columbia, have 20 acres in orchard producing every variety of the fruits. Upon three-quarters of an acre in tomatoes this season the crop was 1200 30-pound boxes, which they sold at from 50 cents to $2 per box, averaging nearly $1; and one acre in blackberries yielded 5000 pounds, marketed readily at 8 cents per pound.

E. L. Smith harvested from 75 acres of his farm nearly 1400 bushels of wheat, which will compare favorably in quality with the best produced in any portion of the state. Mr. S. is also largely engaged in fruit and vegetable farming. He is the pioneer merchant, and justly ranks as the representative man of this section of Wasco county. He has contributed much towards advancing its best interests, and certainly merits the gratitude of its residents for his untiring efforts in their behalf. Although many immigrants have the past summer taken up farms here, with others still coming in, yet there remains awaiting occupation fully as much land and of as good an average quality as that already taken. These lands are located from 4 to 20 miles back from the river, beautifully located and easily cleared of the scattering groves of oak and pine, with sections of small aspens or light growth of underbrush. There are also quite extensive tracts upon which grow the best quality of oak of medium hight, suitable for manufacturing purposes; also large tracts of fir and tie timber from 3 to 6 miles from the river, with an abundance of water power and every facility for fluming from the near vicinity of the timber. Although there are two saw mills and a planer here, they are unable to supply the rapidly increasing local demand. There is also a flouring mill with capacity for 20 barrels per day. A substantial school building, 24 by 36 feet with upper story for hall for societies, entertainments, etc., has just been completed, near the residence of Mr. E. L. Smith, who is also about to construct a larger store building, 40 feet by 22, with two stories.

Messrs. McCown & Champlin have opened out in the general merchandise line in Dr. Adams' building. They are having erected a new building on the doctor's grounds.

For a newly settled section this locality numbers among its residents a larger percentage of the refined and cultivated class than has ever come under our observation, which of course is easily accounted for, as that particular class would very naturally be attracted to this the most delightful section of the upper Columbia.

ESCRITO.

Washington Territory.

The Catholic church in Olympia was dedicated last Sunday with appropriate ceremonies.

The Olympia fair closed Saturday. It is recorded as a financial failure, notwithstanding the fact that the weather was fine.

Hon. Dexter Horton of Seattle, during his late visit east, selected and purchased a library of over 150 volumes which he presented to the Protestant Methodist Sunday school of that city.

The Indians shot by the settlers on the Skagit are likely to recover. One was wounded dangerously in the breast and another not dangerously in the mouth. The Indians say they will let the courts settle this shooting matter, but object to the survey continuing.

A large band of cattle is now on the way to Seattle via the Snoqualmie pass, for Phelps & Wadleigh. A portion of the 750 head are on the way from their Colville band, and the remainder are from the Kittitas valley. The drove will arrive early this week.

The N. P. R. R. land office at Colfax has received orders to stop the sale of lands in the fourteen towns included in the recent great sale to the German colonists.

H. F. Phillips has been awarded the Fort Klamath vegetable contract, under which he is to furnish the garrison with 41,000 lbs. of potatoes, 6,750 lbs. onions, 1,925 lbs. of beets, 5,300 lbs. of cabbage, 700 lbs. of turnips, 500 lbs. of carrots, 825 lbs. parsnips and 10,600 lbs. of apples, at 97 cents per hundred. The hauling will be done by Thatcher & Worden, who have the freight contract.

Congress at its last session having appropriated $3000 for the improvement of the Cowlitz river, the contract has been let and the work of removing snags and logs began last week. Light draft boats now run up, at a high stage of the water, to a new place about a mile and a half above the old Cowlitz prairie landing. After the river is cleared out it is thought these boats will be able to run up at all stages of the water.

The number of car loads of gravel taken from the pit at Dallas to ballast the W. O. R. R. is as follows: From July 12th to July 31st, 1588 cars; from August 1st to August 31st, 3280 cars; from September 1st to September 30th, 3899 cars; total 8775 cars. The dump cars carried about five tons each and the flat cars about ten tons each.

There are only two unchartered vessels in port and they are firmly held at 77s 6d. The City of Madrid cleared for Liverpool on the 16th with the following cargo:

NEW YORK FREIGHT MARKET.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—There is no material change in the freight market, which continues fairly active, considering the limited facilities for forwarding freight via Cape Horn. The Samuel Watts will be the next vessel off, say about the 25th inst. Freight offerings are very fair and include a great variety of goods, but shippers are not anxious to pay very high rates, and as a line at Boston can take freight at equal rates, many goods are being sent there. Rates are about steady, but lower figures than at last quotations, have been accepted to retain a lot of freight from going to Boston. Tonnage is still very scarce, but there is no doubt but one or the other of the lines will have a vessel in a few days, as they are perfectly willing to charter any desirable vessel. The bark T. J. Southard, at Boston, finished her loading to-day and will sail at once. The Emily F. Whitney to follow is in berth. A lot of railroad iron for the Northern Pacific road is in the market for shipment from Philadelphia for Portland. The rate offered is $9 per ton.

THE GENUINE

CELEBRATED

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name, McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Affection, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—No. 62 First street, between Oak and Pine. Office Hours—From 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

All letters of professional business must be addressed to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, & Co., Portland, Oregon.
